BREED THEATER.

All lovers of good, clean, thoroughly meritorious motion pictures will be regaled today by a visit to the Breed, for there is shown one of the best features of the season. Even pictures of a feature and it is difficult matter to make a choice, but perhaps the stirring story of the civil war, entitled The Blacksmiths' Love, is the biggest production. The plot revolves around two young men who are called to the front, one leaving an aged mother and the other leaving a young wife. The one leaving a wife is left by the other as dead on the battlefield, and the comrade comes home and tells the sad news. The wife is comforted by the fellow soldier and later is married to the survivor. Her first husband turns up again, and complicated conditions present themselves. True to her first love, the wife chooses her lawful husband and fearfully leaves the man who was so kind to her in her hours of bereavement.

A mammoth Biograph picture is entitled The Rose of Kentucky and is an splendid scenic and educational reel as well, for it shows life on a tobacco plantation in Kentucky, all of the important and up to date proceedings in tobacco culture being clearly shown.
Mrs. Carroll sings the catchy song, Honey Girl and Maybe You Were Made for Me.

THE AUDITORIUM.

The vanderbilt and motion picture bill and present a side-splitting comedy drawing large houses and causing much favorable comment throughout the town. Fields & Hanson are on the bill and present a side-splitting comedy musical turn which was voted the funniest act ever seen at this popular house in a long time. Another good show is promised for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week and Wednesday afternoon of next week the first ladies' service machine will be held. At this machine every lady will receive a beautiful silver teapoon, a sample of which is now on exhibition in the show windows of the Boston Store and The Plant-Cadden Co. On this same day a coupon will be given with the spoon explaining how to get a set of six of them by having twelve coupons, one of which will be given to every lady at the daily matinee until further notice.

"SALOMY JANE" AT POLI'S.

On Monday night the Poli Players, offering a number of new faces in the cast, will present for the first time in this city Paul Armstrong's California comedy-drama, "Salomy Jane," in which Eleanor Robson starred with great success a couple of seasons ago.

by Bret Hart. It is a play in which Eleanor Robson one of the best star-
